Course Description:

Situational Awareness and Common Operating Picture (SA and COP) support the Communications and Information Management component of the National Incident Management System (NIMS). Individuals and organizations at all levels of response have a responsibility to both contribute to and use reliable information as a part of the incident response efforts. Despite the importance of maintaining SA and COP for all types of incidents, there are few resources available for individuals and teams to improve their capabilities in this arena. This advanced course is designed to build the skills, knowledge, and capabilities of individuals, teams, and organizations involved in emergency preparedness, response and recovery.

Course Goal:

The goal of this course is to provide participants the skills and knowledge necessary to apply a process to capture and evaluate situational awareness in order to develop and communicate a common operating picture which enhances critical decision making at all levels of the event. At the end of the course, the participants will have the skills to manage, analyze, plan, implement, and evaluate the situational awareness/common operating picture (SA/COP) system.

Course Objectives:

Upon completion of this course, participants will be able to:

- Utilize accepted criteria and tools, evaluate the effectiveness of your SA and COP system.
- Explain the role and impact of SA and COP in the Integrated Emergency Management System.
- Apply the critical steps required for a SA and COP system to effectively improve critical decision making.
- Apply best practices and facilitate improvement to the SA and COP system.
- Summarize and directly apply the elements of an integrated SA and COP system.
- Explain the importance of the relationship between information and effective critical decision making.
